CROSSROADS
1943

foreword

A little less than four years ago we proudly but somewhat self-consciously entered high school at Brighton. What a difference those four years have made in our lives! Then we were not much more than young boys and girls; now we are almost mature men and women.

We have grown educationally too. Some have absorbed more than others, but all of us have had every opportunity to prepare for college or business, and for life itself.

Our outlook has changed greatly. Then, before war-clouds darkened our country, we had little care in the future. Now war has come and our future and what it holds in store for us is not certain.

But this we know—wherever we go and whatever we do—we will always remember Brighton High School and remain true to its traditions.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Standing: Swift, Hultman, Wells, Gates, Coapman. Seated: Mrs. Miles.

Brighton High School is particularly fortunate in having as its Board of Education members of the community who embody far-seeing intellectual ideals with deep understanding of pupil needs. Headed by Allan B. Gates, President of the Board since December, 1936, this group has unselfishly given of its time and talents in organizing and supervising the work of the entire system.

Mrs. Edward B. Miles, Schuyler C. Wells, Jr., Ivar N. Hultman, C. Walter Coapman, and Arnold B. Swift assist Mr. Gates in the numerous decisions and problems of the Board.

AUBREY D. DONLEY

SUPERINTENDENT AND PRINCIPAL

Aubrey D. Donley, Superintendent of Brighton Schools, is truly the nucleus of our high school life. It is he who both organizes and directs the manifold duties and intricate routines of successful high school management.

Besides advising Mr. Gordon Allen in the high school and Miss Alice Foley in the grade school, Mr. Donley is in charge of the teachers, the janitorial staff, the expenditure of the budget, assemblies, school correspondence, and the ordering of supplies and equipment. Much of the credit for the planning and completion of the high school building belongs to Mr. Donley whose untiring efforts helped achieve the dream of a new high school.

VICE-PRINCIPAL OF THE HIGH SCHOOL

Gordon Allen

Years of teaching, coaching, and advising have well qualified Gordon Allen for the post of Vice-Principal of the high school. Besides directing the faculty of the high school, Mr. Allen also untiringly discusses various problems with students and advises seniors concerning their choices of vocations and colleges. This year his work as adviser has been greatly increased as boys and girls need guidance in military as well as civil matters.

Operating the switch board, taking messages, arranging appointments with Mr. Donley and Mr. Allen, and keeping records are only a few of the many duties vested in Mrs. Helen Yawman and Mrs. Dorothy Reiner, the Brighton High School office force. Always on hand, they efficiently compile the absence lists, issue late passes, and sort the daily mail and messages.

VICE-PRINCIPAL OF THE GRADE SCHOOL

Miss Alice L. Foley

Upon the shoulders of Miss Alice Foley, grade school Vice-Principal, rests the responsibility of making the grade school run smoothly. Besides carrying out the various intricacies of school routine, advising the teachers, and planning assemblies, Miss Foley assists students and parents in numerous difficulties and problems that arise. Much of the success for the foundation of a high school student's education belongs to the grade school and its principal.

Laying foundations

In the Grade School lies the task of founding in the pupils the ability to learn. From the kindergarten through the seventh grade, a foundation is consistently being laid to insure both excellent scholarly traits and fine characteristics.

Under the able guidance of the grammar school faculty, a Brighton pupil is instilled with democratic ideals as well as historical facts. This is amply illustrated by the "Minute Man" flag which is flying at the Brighton Grade School because 90 per cent or more of the pupils have bought war stamps to preserve their democratic way of life.

Throughout the year, grade school pupils participated in the radio program "The Rochester School of the Air." Music appreciation, science, and book reviews were featured on this program.

Musically minded, the students have a school band, and the fifth, sixth, and seventh grades have glee clubs. Assemblies presented before the school were planned by many of the pupils.

Next year the Social Studies program, which is now incorporated in the seventh grade, will be continued in grades 5 and 6.

GRADE TEACHERS

STUDENT COUNCIL

During this school year the Student Council has attempted to take a more active part in the school life of the students. It has tried to sponsor projects which would help the war effort, increase school spirit, and give enjoyment to the students.

At Christmas time the Student Council sent greeting cards to our graduates who were then in service. It sponsored dances after several of the basketball games. It engaged in a campaign over the public address system to further the sale of war bonds and stamps. It obtained information which it passed on to the students concerning the correct method of saluting the flag. The Council with the co-operation of the faculty staged a senior-faculty basketball game the proceeds of which were turned over to the Red Cross. The Student Council also presented its annual dance which was well supported by the students.

PLANNING STUDENT ACTIVITIES

Standing: Murphy, Smith, Wells. Seated: Mr. Allen (Adviser).

SENIORS

Arthur Couch

Buell Culver

We've come a long way since four years ago when we proudly received our first high school schedules and books and inherited along with them the basement of the old school and the scorn of the upper classmen. Those science note-books and crowded study halls were rather confusing at first, but we soon got used to passing classes in the narrow halls. The gym holds memories of noon-time dancing and basketball games when the score was provided by cardboard signs in the balcony. Under the presidency of Bob Elwell our class held a roller skating party during the year and terminated our class activities with a picnic at Ellison Park.

In our sophomore year we were fascinated and still a little bewildered by the intrigues of the new High School. We decided on business or academic courses and settled ourselves for oncoming years of languages and other course sequences. Our class president was Jerry Closen.

Our junior year, under president John Mahoney we attended a Junior-Senior dance at the invitation of the seniors and in mid-year picked out class rings. As a theme for our Junior Prom we choose A Night at the Circus.

After electing Buell Culver, class president, and Dick Smith the student council president, we started wondering about colleges and a little later on, the draft. In the spring we struggled through scholastic aptitude tests, and reinaugurated the Junior-Senior dance. We terminated our year with a Senior Ball and Class Day.

Leading a class of 123, Arthur Couch with an average of 96.6 and Buell Culver with an average of 96.4 were awarded highest scholastic honors as valedictorian and salutatorian respectively.

Class Will

We, the Seniors of Brighton High School, knowing that we'll be safe from the claws of revenge through the medium of the armed services, and being anxious to advise wayward students, do hereby submit this, our Last Will and Testament:

To the Juniors: We leave the problems of what to plan after you graduate.

To the Sophomores: We leave some scrawny Intermediate Books and extreme sympathy.

To the Freshmen: We leave pity . . . period.

To the Grades: We leave this lovely high school, a bit the worse for wear.

Bob Leene and Jo White leave their lines to Roy Lewis and "Barney."

Nancy Hewitt leaves her cough to Miss Grant for further analyzation.

Paul Manzler leaves his basketball eye to Scotty Norris.

Rog Williamson bequeaths his controlling stock in the "Seamless Tent Company" to Gibbous Products.

To Jane Shaw: Barbara Wells leaves the footlights and Dave Smith, the glue and scissors.

"Van" leaves his permanent wave set to Arnie Goodrich.

"Nick" leaves her peroxide to Booty Newman.

To "Hemo:" Bob Elwell leaves is lusty lungs.

Fritz Ostendorf and Dick Smith leave Madame Fox a little peace.

Tom Tuety leaves his freckles to anyone who stays out in the sun too long this summer.

To "Fubert" Forrester: Dave Smith leaves his 7'3" of stature.

Gloria Roby bequeaths her sports ability to Laura Brown.

Al Perry wills his startling statistics to Ted Houck.

Having duly acclaimed this statement to have been written in a sober, unbiased mood, we hereby make our withdrawal from the school we've cherished and prepare to make our way in that hard old thing known as the world.

Early in January the senior class elected its 1943 Crossroads staff, and adviser Mrs. Mabel McCleary and editor-in-chief Kenn Masters together with associate editors Buell Culver, Shirley Owens, and Fritz Ostendorf and other staff members started plans for the yearbook.

Miss Ruth Shattuck, adviser, assisted Nancy Jane Hewitt on senior picture schedule and Al Perry, photography head in arrangements for school pictures taken in March. Assisting Perry in shooting shots other than the commercial photographer were Al Cooper, Dick Floberg, Pete Palmer, and Tom Killip.

The circulation drive, guided by Miss Marian Perrin was started in March by circulation manager Janice Burrows and assistant Ono Lee Schlageter. Business manager John Mahoney, assisted by Carmen Giacomo, secured patrons.

Sports were handled by Dick Smith and Patricia Latimer while art work was directed by Dick Jones.

Almost entirely unhampered by wartime restrictions, the "Trapezoid" staff under the direction of David Smith, ably assisted by Associate Editors Shirley Owens and Kenn Masters, completed the paper's eighth consecutive year of publication, in an attempt to carry on the tradition of journalistic excellence established by their predecessors.

Although the staff was momentarily stunned by the autumnal departure of adviser Miss Alice L. Foley to the post of grade school Vice-Principal, the appointment of Mrs. Mabel G. McCleary restored confidence and the "Trapezoid" has continued to provide the student body with news and comments.

No small amount of credit for the success of this year's "Trapezoid" should be extended to the business staff, to the photography staff of Al Cooper, Dick Floberg, and Merrill Palmer, to cartoonists Buell Culver and Dick Jones, and indeed to all the ink-begrimed workers who aided immeasurably in the unromatic tasks of writing, re-writing, headline-counting, and copy-reading.

Thespians look into footlights at annual Spring Play

"The show must go on, but how?" became the battle cry of the Dramatic Club Council last fall. The war presented some serious problems to this group consisting of Barbara Wells, President; Ken Masters, Vice-President; Pat Kelley, Secretary; and Tom Killip, the Treasurer. However they mustered up some real Dionysian spirit and delighted a fall meeting of the club with a play entitled "Who Gets the Car Tonight?"

A tense moving drama, "Show Up," which was rather difficult for high school students to undertake was attempted for the assembly presentation. The success of this play proved that Brightonians liked serious drama just as well as comedy.

That old and beloved story of "Daddy-Long-Legs" was unfolded by the dramatists for their spring play. Jane Shaw and Ted Tucker headed the cast. This was one of the largest productions we have ever attempted as it claimed four acts and a large list of props, to say nothing of two changes in scenery. $100 of the proceeds went into the Crossroads publication.

Under the presidency of Kenn Masters and the advisorship of Mr. Donald Smith and Mr. Robert Hynes the high school debating club, the Forum, started out its year's activities with bi-monthly discussions on current topics.

The last half of the year the Forum, continuing its debate, highlighted its activities with a social meeting at which movies were shown and refreshments were served and by enrolling in the Inter-high forum of Rochester and sending a speaker to its first meeting.

Other officers of the club included Rog Williamson, vice-president; Bill Ryan, secretary; and Doug Wayman, treasurer.

To ease overtaxation of the mind, the Latin Club, more familiarly known to the members as the Populi Romani Sapientes, has brought entertainment both of a curative and relative nature.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Dorothy Coats, the consuls, Margann Eldridge, and Kenneth Masters, governed the third year. Nancy DeGroot acted as Scriba, and Jim O'Brien served as Quaestor, internationally known as chancellor of the exchequer.

A thanksgiving play was presented in November. The December meeting was topped off by a "Latinized version of Mr. Anthony" and the meeting terminated with a treasure hunt. In March a round table discussion on Roman food was given.

Leaders plan for all

"Casablanca" at Brighton

Le Cercle Francais, in order to continue its effort to acquaint students with the ways and customs of the French people, presented a widely varied program which included skits, charades, talks, and games this year. A skit on the Casablanca meeting, an "Information Please" program, and charades on French leaders were especially enjoyed. Unfortunately the club had to forfeit its traditional spring tea for parents due to existing conditions.

President Fritz Ostendorf was ably assisted by Margery Garwood, Vice-President; Richard Smith, Secretary; and John Mahoney, Treasurer. Mrs. Norma Fox and Mrs. Ruth Loomis served as advisers.

GIRLS CHORUS

Top Row: Evans, Lamont, Steinruck, Hurwitz, Johnson, Mr. Cahill (Adviser), Barrows, Garwood, J. Neufeglise, J. Student officers of the band, girls' chorus, and mixed chorus, under the same plan as last year, formed a music council to supervise the activities of the music department throughout the year, with James Chaill as director.

In his second year as business manager of the band, Ed London had Lewessa Kirk, librarian; Bill Wilkinson, equipment manager; and Bob Kaman and Ivar Hultman as his assistants.

Heading the girls' chorus was Shirley Searing, business manager, assisted by Patricia Johnson. Virginia Hallett and Sally Levis held the positions of librarian and historian respectively. This chorus was featured at an assembly, the December Parent-Teachers Association meeting, and sang at the Girls' Christmas Sports Tea.

Dudley DeGroot, president; Dave Mullen, vice-president; Richard Ness, librarian; and Nancy Andrews, historian; headed the Mixed Chorus, which carried out the tradition of singing carols in the school halls at Christmas time.

The entire music department participated in the annual spring concert May 14, when "As America Sang," a patriotic pageant was featured.

GUN CLUB

SAFETY RULES
1. Treat every gun as if it were a loaded gun until you personally have proven otherwise.
2. Always keep the action open except when ready to fire.
3. Keep the muzzle pointed in a safe direction.
4. Know your gun and ammunition.
5. Be sure of your backstop.
6. Be sure of your target.
7. Never mix alcohol and gunpowder.
8. Obey instantly all firing line commands.

A comparatively new organization—the Rifle Club is directed by Miss Ruth Shattuck, adviser, and Dick Emery, who has taken over the duties of Vincent Hall—now in the armed service.

Meetings are held every Tuesday evening at Towner's Range. Instruction is given in the safe handling and care of firearms and in the fundamentals of rifle training recommended by the Natonal Rifle Association to prove an aid in future military service.

Twenty-seven riflemen have reached a sufficient plane of ability to be able to obtain their bars, the most coveted of high score awards.

Officers for the year were Vincent Hall, President; Dick Emery, Vice-President; Frank Zahniser. Treasurer; Jack Van de Vate, Secretary; Bill Neufeglise, Range Officer.

CAMERA CLUB

Under the leadership of President Albert Perry and Miss Marian Perrin, adviser, the Camera Club ended the year's activities of camera clicking and shutter snapping with the annual salon exhibit held in the high school library. Added to the varied contests throughout the year, the "picture of the month" contest consisted of each student submitting a print which was judged by the club members. The winning picture was displayed in the lower main hall. A competitive contest open to all Brighton students and sponsored by the "Trapezoid" and the Camera Club was held in the fall. Contest winners were Dick Floberg, Albert Cooper, and Hubert Koloseike. Darkroom equipment for developing, printing, and enlarging is open to all interested in photography. Assisting in the leadership of the club were Dick Floberg, vice-president; and Merrill Pamer, secretary-treasurer.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

Standing: Garrett, Zelomek, Cohen. Seated: Kauffman, Milstein, Miss Stafford (Adviser), Newman, Schutz, Werner.

Under the leadership of Miss Stafford and President Evelyn Schutz the Home Economics Club has done some valuable work this year. Because of the war conditions they decided not to make new clothes, but to remodel the old. Much work was also done for the Red Cross. Besides helping in the war effort, they spent some time having discussions on many subjects of special interest to them. Among these were sewing, cooking, discussions of hair styles, care of skin, and type of clothing that is best suited to one's coloring and height. At all these meetings the President was assisted by Muriel Newman and Treasurer Louise Milstein.

This year due to conflicts no formal meetings have been held. All office work such as distributing notices, checking the health cards, and helping with charts has been done by volunteer workers. Health club members plan to attend open-house at Strong Memorial Hospital.

SCIENCE CLUB

Standing: Perry, Schwartz, Rolfe, Mock, Hultman. Seated: B. Ryan, Bloomer, Mr. Barber, Mr. Van Hooft (Advisers), Sayles, Thomas.

The 1943 Science Club, a member of the American Institute of Science and Engineering Clubs, carried on a varied program under an able, interested group of junior scientists. The officers were Richard Bloomer, President; William Ryan, Secretary-Treasurer; Pat Dunkel, Vice-President in Charge of Biology; Albert Perry, Vice-President in Charge of Physics; and Charles Thomas, Vice-President in Charge of Chemistry. Activities included a Chemistry Magic program demonstrating chemical changes of a surprising nature. Highlight of the year's projects was Charles Thomas's discourse on sulfa-drugs.

Under the presidency of Patricia Miller, the Art Club high-lighted the year's activities with a series of talks on interior decoration, a menu-making project for the armed services, out-door water color painting, trips to the Memorial Art Gallery, and a final social affair at the end of the year. Other officers include Barbara Rourke as Vice-President and Gloria Ruby as Secretray-Treasurer.

There'll be tea later.

The Library Club, under the leadership of Miss Ethel Regin, serves a two-fold purpose by providing social gatherings and library practice for its eighty-odd members. Special club meetings this year included a talk on China by Miss Ying Yi Lin, a Chinese Y. W. C. A. social worker; a talk on books by Miss Eleanor Kidder of the Rundel Library, Young People's room; a Christmas party; book reviews by Miss Regin; and the annual picnic. Other meetings consisted of games and refreshments appropriate to the holidays. Before, after, and during the school day various members took turns helping by checking books in or out, assisting students in finding books they wanted and various other library duties.

Officers of the club this year were Ruth Clark, president; Jane Shaw, vice-president; Evelyn Schutz, secretary; and Janice Burrows, Treasurer.

COACHES

To Brighton's coaches we owe our gratitude for their untiring efforts in the Athletic field and for bringing forth an accelerated program of sports to co-operate with the war effort. Under the leadership of Ross H. Smith they produced fine teams who many times have brought home the bacon. Girls sports are under the supervision of Miss Margaret Karges.

Under the leadership of Mr. Smith the varsity basketball team won the honor of holding second place in the A league. The second team was coached by Francis Davies.

Peter Ritchko was head mentor of the football squad with Gordon Van Hooft as assistant. Leaving in March for the Army, Robert Hynes left behind a record of coaching the soccer team successfully for two years. Robert Collins, former star basketball player of Alfred, coached the varsity baseball squad.

FOOTBALL

Although the record book shows this year's football squad with a record of two wins and five losses, a mere review of the scores does not give a true indication of the benefits that this year's squad received. Their spirit and will to win were characteristics that mark this team as one worthy to go down in Brighton sports history.

SOCCER

The 1942 edition of the Brighton soccer team completed its league schedule with a record of five wins, one loss, and two ties, thereby capturing the Class A crown for Monroe County. The team then went to the sectionals where they downed Holley 2-1. Madison downed the home team 2-0 to capture the sectional crown.

This year's team was very successful in that it not only won a majority of its games, but that the members of the squad experienced the thrill that comes from clean, hard competition.

Standing: Mr. Hynes (Adviser), Hoesteroy, Culver, Killip, Tucker, Garfield, Hart, Bloom, Williams, Giacomo, R. Smith.
Kneeling: Hill, Bowlin, Brown, R. Smith, Van Reypen, Elwell, Stewart, McLaughlin, Wilkinson, Summerhays.

This year's basketball team proved to be another bride's maid by winding up in the second place slot again. As in other years, we can say that we were the only team to beat the champs. The team's spirit was shown when, without the services of Dick Goldstein and Scotty Norris, they finished the season with a string of victories. As long as there is such a spirit, Brighton will continue to turn out top flight teams.

It looks as if Brighton is going to have its best baseball squad in years. The team has been chosen and has shown well in practice. In their first encounter they downed Pittsford 8-3. Already they have shown that Brighton spirit that has led so many other Brighton teams to victory.

Standing: Riddle, Forrester, DeGroot. Kneeling: Wilkinson, Ryan, Smith, Hannan.

SWIMMING

A lot of credit should go to Brighton's swimming team who travelled to the Y. M. C. A. or the U. of R. pool to practice. With such practice as they could manage at these places, they managed to take second place in the sectional tournament for schools of our class.

TENNIS

An uncertain schedule and the loss of most of the veterans has not dampened the enthusiasm for tennis this year. A goodly squad greeted Coach Carl Barber when he took over the coaching duties of the squad, and all have been working hard to produce a winning team.

TRACK

Runners, jumpers, hurdlers, et al have been spending several weeks in getting into shape as the 1943 track team prepares to defend the Monroe County crown which it captured last year. With the loss of only a few lettermen, the hopes for a successful season are bright. Mr. Ross Smith has taken over the coaching duties of both the track and field events since the loss of the track coach Mr. Elswood Hill.

CROSS COUNTRY

INTRAMURAL "A" LEAGUE CHAMPS

The Ubas acquired the Class A crown of the Intramural Basketball league by capturing the league schedule without losing a game and then winning out in a playoff of the top four teams. The Commandos emerged as champions of the B league by virtue of their victories over the Crusaders and Rinky-Dinks after the three teams had ended their schedule in a deadlock.

CHEERLEADERS

Standing: Fales. Kneeling: Owens, Larson, Yawger, Bloomer, Reitz, Park, Gregg.

The annual foul shooting contest produced two sophomores as the winners. John Donohue and John Glasow each sank 39 fouls in 50 attempts to tie for the crown. They attempted to shoot it off to produce a winner three times but the two are so evenly matched that they remain deadlocked.

LEADERS' CLASS

Latimer, Miss Karges (Adviser), Yawger.

This year's girls' sports program, with its special emphasis on physical fitness was directed by Miss Margaret Karges aided by senior managers Pat Latimer and Cis Yawger. The varied competitions throughout the year, besides offering fun and social life, aimed to develop health and vitality, good posture, agility, endurance, and most important of all—good sportsmanship.

In the fall there were intramural and class soccer, tournament badminton, and archery. In the winter a girl could choose to participate in intramural and class basketball, the tumbling class, or the ping pong tournament. Baseball, badminton, and archery in the spring finished the sports program for the year. Throughout the year skills in the various games were practiced, games played, and also physical fitness exercises given.

One of the highlights of the year is the annual Christmas tea when alumnae are feted.

The climax of the year was the sports party in May when the girls were awarded their class numerals, school letters, and monograms, and announcement made of the senior girl voted the best sport awarded a prize.
